Meet Lawrenceville Brick.

Lawrenceville Brick dates back to 1946 manufacturing facebrick and pavers in Lawrenceville, Virginia for residential and commercial architecture. To this day, many of Virginia and North Carolina's most notable buildings still feature original brickwork of Lawrenceville Brick, including UNC and NC State, as well as almost every building at the Fort Lee training facility. As Virginia's Finest Brickmaker, Lawrenceville represents the highest quality brick that are synonymous with all Glen-Gery products.

History + Heritage

+ Build a design story worth talking about. And worth looking at.

Selecting Lawrenceville Brick speaks volumes. It tells people that your building is constructed with materials manufactured to exacting standards. For beauty, quality, comfort, and durability, the choice is Lawrenceville Brick.
